What's the issue?

Smoking around children and young people is harmful.

Why?

- They will be exposed to second-hand smoke, and children who breathe in second-hand smoke are more likely to develop illnesses such as chest infections, glue ear and asthma.
- Exposure to second-hand smoke increases the risk of sudden unexpected death in infancy (SUDI).
- Young people who have friends / family / whānau who smoke are more likely to become smokers.

Second-hand smoke is a mix of smoke from the burning end of a cigarette plus the smoke blown into the air by the person smoking.

From 28 November 2021 it will be illegal to smoke in a vehicle that has children in it.

Second-hand smoke

Second-hand smoke contains more than 200 poisons, some of which can cause cancer.

- The concentration of some poisons is higher in second-hand smoke than in the smoke being breathed in by the smoker.
- The lungs and body weight of children are small so the poisons found in second-hand smoke are more harmful to them.
- Babies and young children may not be able to move away from second-hand smoke.

Second-hand smoke in your home.

- Opening a window will not remove all of the poisons.
- The poisons will linger long after the smoke and smell have disappeared.

Easy steps to making your home and car smokefree

- Make a rule – your home and car are smokefree at all times for everyone.
- Remove all ashtrays from your home.
- Clean out your car ashtray.
- Remove the cigarette lighter from your car.
- Let other people know – put Smokefree/Auahi Kore stickers on your windows.
- Ask your family and whānau to support you by not smoking in your home and car.

Be a positive role model and don't smoke around children at any time. They'll be less likely to become smokers.
